

Lecturers code of conduct

- the lecturer creates, supports and safekeeps a proper learning environment during the course
- the lecturer cooperates with their colleagues and other professionals for the cause of teaching children
- the lecturer helps develop the intellectual, emotional and social potential of the child
- the lecturer helps develop the intellectual, creative and ethical part of the pupil's character
- the lecturer themselves educates themselves and develops their abilities
- the lecturer cooperates with the parents and school, builds their trust and respects their right for privacy
- the lecturer mustn't misuse their standing towards the child
- the lecturer sees their job as their vocation
- the lecturer must be an upstanding person and they must be aware that they are a paragon for the children
- the lecturer must be righteous and just; they mustn't give preferential treatment to any one child and treat them all equally

Twelve rules of conduct during the course/at the summer camp

1. we are a team - we help each other and work together
2. we act kindly, we greet all adults and children - the lecturer is an example to the children
3. we use words like please, sorry, excuse me, thanks etc.
4. we avoid vulgar expressions
5. we do not tolerate any form of bullying, discrimination or any violence
6. if there so happens to be a fight between the children, we work towards defusing the situation
7. During the first day/course we agree how we will address each other, on how we will behave towards each other and how we will work safely
8. the lecturer is responsible for the children during the duration of the course
9. we do not force the children do do anything but we do not do their work for them - we motivate them
10. we do not use the phone during the duration of the course/camp for entertainment
11. we make good on our promises
12. we recycle and clean up after we are done